“Verily beginninglessly BRAHMAN ALONE IS. OM (The Word) is Shabda-Brahman (Brahman in the form of The Word). OM is the Vāchaka (Designation) of Brahman. The whole Brahmāṇḍa (Cosmic Universe) is a projection of OM. Verily God, gods and goddesses, and all life and all this Cosmic Universe is OM alone. There is nothing that exists outside its projection. Its further glory is this: the past, the present, the future—everything is just OM. And whatever transcends the three divisions of time that too is just OM. For truly, everything is Brahman, And this Self within (Ātman) is Brahman.”

SYMBOLISM OF OM (AUM) AND THE GĀYATRĪ-MANTRA

1. The Total Existential Reality

OM OR AUM is the most comprehensive, universal, non-personal, holy Sound-Symbol (LOGOS) and Designation (Vāchaka) of the SUPREME INFINITE DIVINE REALITY. This Divine Reality is of the nature of ANANTA-SAT-CHIT-ĀNANDA (Absolute INFINITE-EXISTENCE-CONSCIOUSNESS-BLISS). It manifests as the Totality of Existence—from the external-most Physical to the internal-most Spiritual—on Four Cosmic Planes, Macrocosmic (Universal) as well as Microcosmic (Individual), viz.—

1. The Gross or Physical ;
2. The Subtle or Psychical ;
3. The Potential or Causal ; and
4. The Transcendental or Meta-Phenomenal, which is the Source of the first three.

The first Three Planes are represented on the Cosmic level, respectively, by :

1. Our external physical or empirical universe of sense-experience with its different types of life, such as microbes, plants, fishes and birds, animals, and human beings experienced while living through the Gross-body—designated BHŪH or BHŪR-LOKA ;
2. The intermediate subtle regions with the Manes and other subtle invisible beings inhabiting them, which are apprehended psychically while living or through the Subtle-body after death—designated BHUVAH or BHUVAR-LOKA ;
3. The several heavens with the different types of angels and gods residing in them, including the Highest Heaven called the Abode of Truth (SATYA-LOKA) where dwells the SUPREME CREATOR-GOD (BRAHMĀ), to be envisioned spiritually while living in Samādhi or Trance, or through the Spiritual-body after death—designated SVAH or SVAR-LOKA.

These Three Planes (TRI-BHUVANA) together constitute the entire phenomenal universe, called the BRAHMĀNDA. The Supreme Being and Universal Oversoul of the entire Brahmānda and all its beings is designated PARA-MA-ĪSHVARA (THE SUPREME LORD AND RULER). Parama-īshvara (Parameshvara) rules this Brahmānda, divided into Fourteen Cosmic Worlds (CHATURDASHA-BHUVANA-s or LOKA-s), from within (Antaryāmin) permeating it as its OVERSOUL (PARAMĀTMAN).

Beyond the Phenomenal Brahmānda is the Noumenal, Non-Personal, Transcendental Absolute SPIRITUAL REALITY designated BRAHMAN (THE INFINITE), which is Supra-Corporeal, Meta-Physical, and beyond all Worlds and Heavens (LOKOTTARA). That is the FOURTH PLANE (TURĪYA), the Absolute beyond all Time, Space, and Causation. IT is pure infinite Spiritual Existence, and not any Region or Person. All the other Three Planes are Relative. They are within time, space, and causation and rest on the Fourth, their Source, like a cinema-show on the screen without affecting IT. It is the ABSOLUTE BRAHMAN that appears as Parameshvara when associated with the Brahmānda, the entire Phenomenal Universe of the Three Planes.

II. The Macrocosm and the Microcosm

THE MACROCOSM, which is represented by all the above Four Cosmic Planes, and the MICROCOSM, the individual unit which is a part of it, are built on the same plan, just as the fully manifested tree with its trunk and branches, leaves, flowers, and fruits, bears also seeds, each of which contains within itself the potentiality of manifesting a similar whole tree, including similar seeds. Though the seeds are for the time being a very minor part of the tree, without any similarity to it, all the elements and ingredients of the whole tree are lying latent within every seed though invisible. Similarly, each individual being or person, though apparently an insignificant part of the Brahmāṇḍa, contains the potentiality of the entire Four Planes of Existence of ANANTA-SAT-CHIT-ĀNANDA, which he or she can manifest in due course through spiritual efforts (Sādhana) and find affinity and unity (Yoga) on each Cosmic Plane through identification with it. Hence, as a corollary to Brahmāṇḍa, the individual is called the Pindāṇḍa (Anda means egg, which has the potentiality of reproducing its original source).

It will be interesting to note that from the Vedic literature onwards, in the Upanishads, the Gītā, and the later literature, the Supreme Divine Reality BRAHMAN is referred to as the Eternal Empyrean Source in which the Tree of the Universe, called ASHVATTHA (literally, 'that which will not last till tomorrow', that is, ever-changing and ephemeral), is rooted.⁽¹⁾ Sometimes, the Divine Reality Itself along with the universe, is referred to as THE ETERNAL TREE, since the universe is rooted in IT (SAT-mūlāḥ saumya imāḥ sarvāḥ prajāḥ-Sat-āya, tanāḥ, Sat-pratishthāḥ—Chhāndogya Upanishad, VI. 8. 4),⁽²⁾ and continuously manifests from the Reality, like the waves in the ocean, while the Reality remains unseen. The Katha Upanishad (VI. 1) says : "This is the Eternal Ashvattha Tree whose roots are above and whose branches spread below. That is verily the Pure, That is Brahman, and That is also called the Immortal. In That rest all the worlds, and none can transcend IT. Verily this is THAT." Cf. Also Shvetāshvatara Upanishad, III. 9 :

"Rooted in His own glory He stands like a Tree, One without a second and immovable. By that Being the whole universe is filled."

(Vriksha iva stabdho divi tishthati ekah ; tenedam pūrnam purushena sarvam.)

Gītā, XV. 1-3 says: They speak of an Eternal Ashvattha rooted above and branching below whose leaves are the Vedas.....

It was stated above that whatever is in the Macrocosm in a fully developed form is also in the Microcosm potentially in the seed-form, though unseen. Conversely, we may also surmise that whatever latent intellectual and artistic faculties are manifested and developed in the Microcosm in course of time or evolution are already present in the Macrocosm in a fully developed state, though ordinarily invisible to us.⁽³⁾ That is, we cannot comprehend them without proper mental equipment, training, and attuning ourselves to it. But the Yogi-s with disciplined and trained minds visualize them (Yogi-pratyaksha), just as ordinarily we cannot see with bare eyes what the astronomers see about the far away galaxies, nebulae, etc. with the help of powerful telescopes. Cf. a) Tad-vishnoh paramam padam sadā pashyanti sūrayah ; divi-iva chakshuh ātatam—Rig-veda, I. 22.20 ; also b) Esha sarveshu bhuteshu gūdhō ātmā na prakāshate ; drishyate tu agryaya buddhyā sūkshmayā sūkshma-darshibhih,

—Katha Upanishad, III. 12).⁽⁴⁾

On the Microcosmic level, in the individual person, the corresponding States of the Four Cosmic Planes are :

1. The Gross or Physical-Body (Sthūla-Sharīra) of the Waking-State (Jāgrat), operative while living, which is an integral part of our entire physical universe of sense-perception (Bhūh) ;

2. The Subtle or Psychic-Body (Sūkshma-Sharīra), experienced psychically and to some extent in the Dream-State (Svapna), which survives death of the Gross-body and is an integral part of the Cosmic Psychic-Plane (Bhuvah) ;

3. The Potential or Causal-Body (Kāraṇa-Sharīra) , experienced as the formless and objectless pure peaceful happiness in the dreamless Deep-Sleep-State (Sushupti) , when both the Gross-body and the Subtle-body are held in abeyance, and which lasts till the real Self-Knowledge dawns. It is equivalent to the State of Involution (Prati-sarga) of Brahmāṇḍa when it returns by the reverse process into its Causal or Seed-State (Pralaya) after billions of billions years. From that Seed-State again the Evolution (Sarga) of the next universe commences after a long period of dynamic rest, just as we commence our next day after sleep.

In the different categories of Spiritual-States experienced in different types of Trances and Samādhi-s, when one envisions angels, gods, and the Supreme Personal Creator-God and has intercourse with them, the Causal-Body, having been purified and rendered subtler and transparent (Sāttvika) by spiritual Sādhana, manifests as Spiritual-Body (Sāttvika-Sharīra) or Divinized-Body (Bhagavatī-Tanu), which is an integral part of the Cosmic Heavens (Svaha).

These three are the Phenomenal States of the individual person, corresponding to the Phenomenal Universe. The Spiritual Entity within the person which endows the body with personality and consciousness, enabling it to get all the experiences of life in all the States, is called the JĪVA or JĪVĀTMAN (ANIMATING-SOUL). Jīvātman is the lord and ruler of the body and controls and guides it from within, even as PARAMĀTMAN controls the universe from within.⁽⁵⁾

4. The Fourth Plane (Turiya) on the individual level is the Absolute ĀTMAN, corresponding to Absolute BRAHMAN, realized only in Nirvikalpa-Samādhi (Transcendental Trance when the mind merges in the SPIRIT, its Source), beyond all manifested and potential corporeality. It is the ABSOLUTE ĀTMAN which appears as the JĪVA when associated with individual beings. The individual personality and life rest on the Ātman like the cinema-show on the screen without affecting IT. On this plane ĀTMAN is identical with BRAHMAN, since it is a plane beyond all phenomena, beyond Brahmānda, where there is no Time, Space, or Causation to bring about division or limitation in any manner in the Pure Infinite Spiritual Existence.

Thus every individual contains all aspects of the whole of EXISTENCE, from the grossest Physical to the subtlest Spiritual, in a potential form. What is more, everyone can realize it with appropriate spiritual efforts (Sādhana). And the Upasana of OM is one of the chief and effective means of realizing it.

III. The OM as Auditory Symbol

OM IS primarily an auditory or SOUND-SYMBOL. It represents in a nutshell all the above Four Planes of the SUPREME INFINITE DIVINE REALITY, both Macrocosmically as well as Microcosmically, for purposes of meditation to help visualize and realize their unity in life. The symbolism is explained here briefly :—

All our experiences of entities and ideas in all the states of consciousness are represented by words, and words are made up of unit-sounds, such as are denoted by A to Z of the alphabet in English. With these sounds we form all our words and concepts. So A to Z can be in a way a symbol of the knowledge of the whole of Reality. For example, we say, 'He knows from A to Z of a particular thing'. But the English Roman alphabet and its arrangement is casual and unscientific, and its pronunciation and use in words is erratic.

In Sanskrit, each unit-sound is represented by a single definite letter and the pronunciation and spelling or name of the letter are the same. For example, in Sanskrit the consonant K with the vowel a added is pronounced as Ka and spelt also as Ka only ; whereas in English we pronounce it as Ka, but spell as Kay-Ye. The Sanskrit alphabet is arranged in accordance with the order of origination of sounds from the opening of the mouth, passing through the throat from the larynx, and ending with the closing of the lips, by the contact of different parts of the mouth with the tongue. Between opening and closing of the mouth we produce all the words which represent all our experiences and concepts. When we open the mouth, we utter A (pronounced like o in come, and when we close the lips we utter M (again like m in come).⁽⁶⁾ Thus between A and M are all the other sounds and words. Joining to them in the middle U (like u in full), which rolls through the throat over the whole tongue, we cover the entire beginning, middle and end of all words symbolically. In Sanskrit when A and U are combined, it gives us O sound as in go, and adding M to it we get the OM. Now the A+U+M known as the Mātrā-s (phonetic constituents) of OM, are symbolic not only of the beginning, middle and end of all the words, but of the Worlds (Loka-s) as well for meditation purposes. They represent the Three Planes of Bhūh, Bhuvah, and Svah and the corresponding Microcosmic States. When OM is uttered mystically, the inarticulate humming sound that lingers (as after a gong is sounded), designated as the Ardha-Mātrā or a-Mātrā (half or non-mora), known also as the Anāhata-dhvani, represents the Absolute beyond the Worlds (Lokottara), the Fourth Plane (Turiya). Thus AUM is symbolic of entire EXISTENCE, Phenomenal as well as the Noumenal, Macrocosmic as well as Microcosmic, Personal Ishvara as well as Impersonal Brahman. Hence OM is considered as the designation of the INFINITE SUPREME DIVINE REALITY (Tasya vāchakah pranavah), and is held to be the holiest universal NAME. Hence OM is also characterized as 'Shabda-Brahman' SOUND-BRAHMAN or Brahman in the form of SOUND OR THE WORD). OM being the Universal Cosmic Sound (the LOGOS), the totality of all sounds, it is also called PRANAVA (the primordial Reverberating Sound which fills the Universe), from which, modified as the Ākasha (Space/Matter), the universe evolves in stages. Often 'OM TAT SAT' (Om That Existence or Reality) is uttered to indicate the transcendental aspect of Divine Existence. Cf. Om-Tat-Sat iti nirdesho Brahmanah trividhah smritah—Gītā, XVII. 23.

IV. The OM as Visual Symbol

AS WRITTEN in the Sanskrit Deva-Nāgarī script for ritualistic and auspicious purposes, the figure of OM (given at the beginning of this booklet) is also a graphic symbol. The curve below in the figure, represents the Bhūr-Loka (the Lower Gross Plane); the curve above, the Bhuvā-Loka (the Upper Subtle Plane), and the curve projecting from the middle, like the trunk of an elephant, the Svar-Loka (the Causal Plane), whence the Logos (Pra-nava) issues forth reverberating as if from the trunk of an elephant. The small curve with the dot above the curved trunk, known as Chandra-bindu, signifies the semi-nasal sound as pronounced in Sanskrit. It represents the inarticulate lingering sound after a gong is sounded and stands for the Absolute. Words, and their concretized aspects Worlds, issue forth unceasingly from this OM-kāra (Sound-OM) like bubbles or waves in the sea.

This graphic symbol of OM was, in course of time, further concretized and personified for purposes of Upāsana into the figure of the Deity GAJĀNANA (The Elephant Faced Deity—from gaja = elephant, ānana = face) or GAÑESHA (the Lord of all Bhūta-gana-s or Cosmic Elements,—from Īsha = Lord or Ruler of the, [bhūta = element], gana = group) with all the holy and auspicious attributes and functions that were associated with OM from the Vedic times transferred to Him. His figure is a philosophic symbol to which suitable mythology was later invented to explain His figure popularly. We shall not go into the details of this highly interesting profound cosmic symbolism here, but only hint at the fact that His pot-belly represents that the whole Brahmāṇḍa is within Him, and He stands transcending it. The similarity of the elephant-face and the figure of the OM is quite evident. He easily rides or controls the troublesome Māyā, represented by the mischievous mouse. All this is in keeping with the Hindu tradition of symbolically concretizing and personifying abstract entities as already mentioned. Ganeśa is often referred to as OM-kāra-svarūpa (of the form of OM-kāra). We may also note here that in the Hindu Pantheon all the Deities have animals as their vehicles, signifying divine powers controlling animal tendencies.

V. AUM and Spiritual Practice

TO HELP in Spiritual Practice (Upāsana), A-U-M, the phonetic constituents of OM, are identified with different types of Cosmic Triads, from the theistic to the philosophic and the mystic, for meditation purposes as per the need and development of the aspirant.⁽⁷⁾ Further, OM being the PRANAVA (COSMIC-SOUND), the Logos in the Divine Mind where all the concepts of the universe and its entities arise and take shape into existent entities, by the mystic repetition of the OM, one attunes oneself to the Cosmic Mind and is lifted up spiritually. By connecting oneself mentally to the cosmic reservoir through Upāsana, ones mind becomes a conduit for the flow of inspiration from the Cosmic Mind. Hence it is considered the holiest Mantra (Mystic Formula) for Japa (sacred repetition), and is added at the beginning of all other Mantra-s used for Japa as well.

Let us take two examples to see how the symbolism works psychologically :

1) The script we use for any language is nothing but an artificially contrived arbitrary device, a set of symbols to record sounds. Still it helps us to store knowledge in books. One who knows the language well and has learnt the particular script, to him is opened up all the knowledge stored in all the books in that language, though he may need the help of the learned. Similarly, if one knows the symbolism of OM, and all the ideas it represents, to him is opened up all the Divine Knowledge, which he may realize with the help of a Guru.

2) Suppose we have forgotten the name of a person about whom we want to communicate to a friend. We begin to give various details and descriptions ; still it may not give an adequate or correct idea of the person. The friend's mind being in doubt, he does not feel any attraction to him. On the other hand, suppose we utter the name of a person, say Shri Ramakrishna. Immediately, in the mind of a person who has intimate knowledge about him, the cumulative effect of all his knowledge brings about a sense of love and reverence. Then, if the context needs, he may begin to recount all the details of that great life. Similarly, if a person has learnt all about the Infinite Supreme Divinity, and that OM is ITs designation, as soon as he utters OM all the greatness of that Divinity and ITs wonderful manifestations come to his mind in a cumulative way and uplifts him. Then he may begin to contemplate on the details intensely and intimately, associating himself with IT. This intimate intense contemplation is called UPĀSANĀ, which literally means 'sitting or placing oneself mentally near' to the object of meditation. The psychological law is 'yat dhyāyati tat bhavati' (whatever one meditates upon intensely that he becomes). The more one recalls the name of a person whom he loves, the nearer he feels to him, and the more clearly he visualizes him. Similarly, the more one repeats OM with the requisite attitude, the more one recalls the Infinite Supreme Divinity, and feels close to IT. Ultimately he realizes his essential identity with IT, since he is, as we saw, potentially the microcosmic counterpart of IT.

In ritualistic worship the identification of the macrocosm and microcosm is mentally visualized by a process called Nyāsa which consists of touching different parts of the body while uttering the words of the cosmic counter parts, and also in Mānasa-pūjā or Mental-Worship, when symbolic identification is mentally contemplated.

VI. The Gāyatrī-Mantra

THE GĀYATRĪ-MANTRA is the greatest prayer-Mantra which incorporates all the ideas of the AUM-symbolism and prays to the Supreme Infinite Divine Reality for the enlightenment of the Intelligence (DHĪ) of all human beings to enable them to realize the Supreme Truth. It is also known as the SĀVITRĪ-MANTRA since it is addressed to the Divine Person in the SUN, who is considered as the visible symbolic representation of the Supreme Divinity, for He destroys darkness and promotes life. (cf. Isha Upanishad, 15-16). Sāvitrī is from Savitri (Savitā), which means the Source or Originator of Universe, as well as the Sun. Sāvitrī-Mantra occurs in the Vedas (Rig-Veda, III. 62. 10), and is considered to be their very essence, or even their Mother (Gāyatrī Veda-Mātā). When later it was associated with OM, which is also considered as the Source of Vedas, and the Gāyatrī was treated as its elaboration, OM was prefixed to it along with the three Vyāhriti-s, representing the Three Cosmic Planes, Bhūr-Bhuvah-Svah (Cf. Bṛihadāranyaka Upanishad, V. 14. 1-8 ; Chhāndogya Upanishad, II. 23. 2-3 ; III. 12).⁽⁸⁾ The Gāyatrī-Mantra in full, repeated mystically, runs as follows :

OM BHŪR-BHUVAH-SVAH,
TAT-SAVITUH-VARENYAM
BHARGO DEVASYA DHĪMAHI ;
DHIYO YO NAH PRACHODAYĀT.

“OM, We meditate on the Divine Spiritual Effulgence of That Adorable Supreme Infinite Divine Reality, the Source of the Three Phenomenal World-Planes—the Gross or Physical (Bhūh), the Subtle or Psychical (Bhuvah), and the Potential or Causal (Svah), both Macrocosmically (Externally) and Microcosmically (Internally). May THAT SUPREME DIVINE BEING stimulate our intelligence so that we may realize the SUPREME TRUTH.”

The Gāyatrī-Mantra is the most universal, non-personal, holy prayer which can be used by any person belonging to any country, irrespective of race, religion, or sex. If one is a human being with intelligence that is qualification enough for repeating this Prayer-Mantra.

In course of time, just as the OM-Kāra was personified into Ganesha, the Gāyatrī-Mantra also was personified into the Goddess Gāyatrī (GĀYATRĪ-DEVĪ) for purposes of Upā-sanā. The following verse is repeated in adoration as a Dhyāna-shloka (Meditational-verse) :

Muktā-vidrūma-hema-nīla-dhavalā-chchhāyāihmukhāih-tryakshanāih

Yuktām indu-nibaddha-ratnamukutām, tattvārtha varṇatmikām ;

*Gāyatrīm varadābhayānkusha-kashām,
shubhram-kapālam gadām,*

Shankham-chakram-athāravinda-yugalam hastāih-vahantīm bhaje.

(I adore the Goddess Gayatri, the embodiment of the Varna-s (letters) signifying the Supreme Truth, with Her five benign faces reflecting the hues of pearls, corals, gold, sapphire, and snow—each studded with three eyes (representing omniscience), whose head is adorned with a jewelled crown crested with the crescent-moon, whose two hands (out of ten) are in the pose of bestowing boons and fearlessness, and who in her other hands holds the goad, the whip, the white-skull, the mace, the conch, and the disc (as symbols of terror to the evil forces), and a pair of lotuses (as symbolizing purity, love, devotion, and detachment)."

(Cf. also Devī-Māhātmya or Chandi : I. 73-74 ; IV. 10)

VII. Importance of OM and the Gāyatrī

OM and the GĀYATRĪ-MANTRA have acquired such great importance that they are often referred to as THE PRANAVA and THE GĀYATRĪ. In the Vedas, Upanishads, the Gītā, and the later literature, there are numerous references to the holiness, importance, and significance of the Pranava and the Gāyatrī. The whole of the Māndūkya Upanishad is devoted to the delineation of the spirituo-philosophical significance of OM. Though the Upanishad contains only twelve verses, it is considered so important that numerous commentaries are written on it. Shri Gaudapāda-āchārya, the grand-Guru of shri Sankarā-āchārya, has written an extremely subtle and revolutionary philosophical work called the Māndūkya-Kārikā to elucidate the highest philosophy of this Upanishad which establishes the supremacy of the Non-dual Reality (ADVAITA). Shri Shankarāchārya has commented on both the Upanishad and the Kārikā.

We shall give here a few of the important original quotations in translation from the Upanishads and the Gītā referring to the Pranava and the Gāyatrī. It must be remembered that just as when we say Krishna or Christ saves, it signifies the Person behind the name, OM too signifies the Infinite Brahman, OM being ITS universal Name (Tasya vāchakah Pranavah).

1. KATHA UPANISHAD : (I. 2. 15-17).

"The Goal which all Vedas proclaim, which all austerities and meditations (Tapāmsi) seek, and desiring which the sages lead the life of Brahmacharya (Continence)— I tell it to thee in brief— IT IS OM." (cf. Gītā, VIII. 11).

"This Immortal WORD (LOGOS) is verily Brahman (the Personal Creator-God). This Immortal WORD is verily also the Highest Brahman (Impersonal Divine Reality). Having understood this Immortal WORD, whatever one desires, one gets that."

"This Support (OM as a means of-realizing Brahman) is the best ; This Support is the Supreme. Knowing this Support (realizing the Truth signified by OM) one is exalted in the World of Brahmā."

2. PRASHNA UPANISHAD : (The whole of Section V. Some are quoted here—V. 2-5, 7.)

"What is OM, O Satyakāma, is verily the Higher or Transcendental (Impersonal) Brahman and the Lower or Phenomenal (Personal Creator-God) Brahmā. Therefore the Knower attains either of the two by this means."

"If one meditates upon only one of the three Mātrā-s (Moras) of OM, he comes back to this world very soon (after his death) being enlightened by that. The Rik-Hymns lead him to the World of Man, where he attains the greatness (in life) being endowed with Austerity (Tapa-syā), Continence (Brahmacharya), and Faith (Shraddha)."

"If again, one meditates upon two Mātrā-s one is united with the mind (after death). He is led to the World of the Moon (the Presiding Deity of mind) in the Intermediate Region by the Yajus-Formulas. And there in that World of Moon, having enjoyed its grandeur, comes back again."

"Again, he who meditates upon the Supreme Purusha (Parameshvara) with the Immortal Word OM, constituted of all the three Mātrā-s, becomes united with the effulgent Sun. He is freed from all sins, even as a snake is freed from its slough. He is led to the world of Brahmā by the Sāma-Chants. Then he beholds the Supreme Purusha residing in the Heart, higher than this highest totality of Jīva-s (Brahmā or Hiranyagarbha)."

"...Verily, with this OM-kāra (the a-Mātrā) as the Support, the Knower attains what is peaceful, undecaying, immortal, fearless, and Supreme (Atman/Brahman)."

3. MUNDAKA UPANISHAD : (II. 2. 3, 4, 6).

"Taking as bow the mighty Upanishadic weapon, fix on it the arrow sharpened by constant meditation. And having drawn it to the full with the mind absorbed in ITs thought, penetrate that MARK—the IMMORTAL BRAHMAN."

"PRANAVA (the mystic Word OM) is the bow; the Soul within, the arrow; and Brahman, the target. One should hit that mark with an undistracted mind, and like the arrow, become one with IT."

"Where all the arteries meet like the spokes of a chariot-wheel in the hub—there within the psychic Heart He moves, becoming manifold. Meditate on that Self as OM. Godspeed to you in crossing to the farther shore beyond all darkness."

4. MĀNDŪKYA UPANISHAD : The entire upanishad is on OM, here briefly quoted :

"All this world is the Immortal Word OM. Its further explanation is this : the past, the present, the future, everything is just OM. And whatever transcends the three divisions of time—that, too, is just OM." (1)

"For verily, everything is Brahman. And this Self (Atman) within is Brahman. The Atman has four quarters (aspects)—Waking, Dream, and Deep-sleep States of Consciousness, and Turiya or Samādhi, the Super-Conscious State." (2) ... "This Atman is to be identified with OM, when OM is considered as a single complete WORD. When OM is considered as composed of parts, the aspects of the Atman are to be identified with the parts, and the parts with the aspects. The parts of OM are A,U,M." (8) ... "The Immortal Word OM in its partless (i.e. inarticulate) aspect is the Fourth (Turiya)—the Transcendental, devoid of phenomenality, the Supreme Bliss, and Non-dual. Thus the WORD OM is verily the Self (Atman). He who knows this, with his self (Jīva) enters the SELF (ATMAN). (12).

5. TAITTIRĪYA UPANISHAD : (Whole of VIII Anuvāka in Chapter I, briefly quoted here).

"One should contemplate : OM is Brahman ; all this universe (perceived by the senses and intuited by the mind) is OM...A Brahmana proceeding to recite the Veda intending 'Let me obtain the Veda' says OM. Assuredly he attains Brahman."

6. CHHĀNDOGYA UPANISHAD : (A few passages are quoted here. See also I. 1. 8-9 ; IV . 17. 1-3).

"Now, that which is Udgītha is verily Pranava and that which is Pranava is Udgītha. The yonder Sun is Udgītha and also Pranava, for He moves along pronouncing 'OM'." (I.5.1)

"Prajāpati (the Vedic Lord of Creation) brooded (made Tapas or meditated) on the Worlds. From them, thus brooded, issued forth the threefold Veda (as their essence). He brooded on this. From this, thus brooded upon, issued forth the Mystic Syllables (Vyāhṛiti-s) Bhuh, Bhuvah, and Svah. He brooded on them. From them, thus brooded upon, issued forth (as their essence) the Mystic Word OM. Just as all the parts of the leaf are permeated by the ribs of the leaf, so are all words permeated by the OM-kāra. Verily, the OM-kāra is all this—yea, the OM-kāra is verily all this." (II. 23. 2-3)

"Gāyatrī indeed is all this, whatever being exists. Speech indeed is Gāyatrī; for speech indeed sings and removes fear of all this that exists...Such is the greatness of this (Gāyatrī). The Supreme Cosmic person (Purusha) is even greater than this. All this World is a quarter of Him, the other three quarters of His constitute the Immortal Transcendent.”

(III. 12. 1 to 6 in brief).

7. BRIHADĀRANYAKA UPANISHAD :

See Section V. 14. 1-8, and VI. 3. 6 for ritualistic and meditational application of GĀYATRĪ.

8. SHVETĀSHVATARA UPANISHAD : (1. 1. 4).

“Making one's own body the lower piece of wood (Arani) and the Pranava the upper piece of wood (for purposes of rituals, fire is kindled by rubbing two pieces of holy wood or short sticks called Arani-s), and practising churning in the form of meditation, one should realize the inherent Divine as one would find out something hidden (like fire in the Arani-s).”

9. MAITRI UPANISHAD (Also called Maitreyi or Maitrāyani Upanishad) (A few passages are quoted here. See also Section VI. 1, 4, 6, 8, 22-26, 34, 37 ; and VII. 5, 11).

“These two, the Spirit within and the Sun, go forth toward each other. One should reverence them with the WORD OM, with the Mystic Utterances (Vyāhriti-s) Bhūr, Bhuvah, Svah, and with the Sāvitrī (Gāyatrī) prayer."

"There are, assuredly, two forms of Brahman : the formed and the formless. Now, that which is the formed is unreal ; that which is the formless is real, is Brahman, is Light. That Light is the same as the Sun. Verily, That came to have OM as its Soul (Atman). He divided Himself threefold. OM consists of three Mātrā-s (A+U+M). By means of these 'the whole World is woven warp and woof across Him.' For thus has it been said ; 'One should absorb oneself meditating that the Sun is Om.'" (VI. 2-3).

Various Triads of the forms of the Atman, worshipped by the use of the threefold OM.

"Now, it has elsewhere been said ; A, U, M is the threefold form of this Atman :

A, U, M (OM)	—This is the Sound-form
Feminine, masculine, and Neuter	—This is the Sex-form
Fire, Wind, and Sun	—This is Light-form
Brahmā, Rudra, and Vishnu	—This is the Lordship-form

Gārhapatya, Dakshin- āgni, and Āhavanīya- Sacrificial Fires	—This is the Mouth- form (Mouth of Gods)
Rig-Veda, Yajur-Veda, Sāma-Veda	—This is Understand- ing-form
Bhūr, Bhuvah, Svah	—This is the World-form
Past, Present, Future	—This is the Time-form
Breath, Fire, and Sun	—This is Heat-form
Food, Water, and Moon	—This is the Swelling- form
Intellect, Mind, and Egoism	—This is the Intelli- gence-form
Prāṇa, Apāṇa, and Vyāna Breaths	—This is the Breath- form

Hence these are praised, honoured, and included by saying OM. For thus has it been said : 'This Immortal WORD OM, verily, O Satyakāma, is both the Transcendental and phenomenal Brahman.' —(VI. 5).

Worship of the Atman in the form of the Sun by the use of the Sāvitrī-prayer

Tat Savitur Varenyam (That Adorable Splendour of That Savitri—the Originator of the Universe) ;

'Yonder Sun, verily is Savitru (a visible symbol). He, verily, is to be sought thus by one seeking Atman'—say the expounders of Brahman.

Bhargo Devasya Dhīmahi (May we meditate upon That Splendour of the Divinity);

'Savitru, verily, is the Divinity. Hence upon that which is called His Splendour do I meditate'—say the expounders of Brahman.

Dhiyo yo nah Prachodayāt (And may He inspire our thoughts).

'Thoughts, verily, are meditations. And may He inspire these for us'—say the expounders of Brahman.

—(VI. 7 —in part).

10. THE BHAGAVAD-GĪTĀ.

'Pranavaḥ sarva-Vedeshu'—'I am the OM in all the Vedas' (VII. 8).

'Controlling all the senses, confining the mind in the Heart, drawing up the Prāṇa-Vāyu (through the Sushumnā) towards the head (Sahasrāra), and thus occupied in the practice of yoga, he who departs from the body uttering the one-syllabled "OM" denoting Brahman, and meditating on Me, attains the Supreme Goal.' (VII. 12-13).

'Pavitram-Om-Kārah'—"I am the Holy WORD OM"—(IX. 17)

'Of Sāman-s also I am the Brihat-Sāman, of metres GĀYATRĪ am I." (X. 35)

'OM, TAT, SAT', this has been declared to be the triple designation of Brahman. By that were made of old the Brāhmaṇa-s, the Vedas, and the Yajna-s. Therefore, uttering 'OM' are the acts of sacrifice, gift, and austerity, as enjoined in the ordinances, always begun by the followers of the Vedas. (XVII. 23-24).

(For the use of TAT (THAT Supreme Reality) and SAT (Supreme Existence) see the verses XVII. 25-28).

MAHĀNĀRĀYANA UPANISHAD ON OM AND GĀYATRĪ

"The One-syllable 'OM' is Brahman. Agni is its Deity. Its Rishi also is Brahman. Its metre is Gāyatrī. Its application is for the union with Paramātman. (Section XXXIII).

"May the Boon-conferring Divine Gāyatrī come to us (to instruct us about) the Imperishable Brahman who is revealed by the Vedānta. May Gāyatrī, the Mother of Metres, favour us with the Knowledge of the Supreme Brahman." (XXXIV).

"O Gāyatrī, Thou art the Vigour, Thou art the Stamina, Thou art the Strength, and Thou art the Brilliance in all. Thou art the origin and sustenance of Gods. Thou art the Universe and its duration. Thou art all that exist and their span of life. Thou surpassest everything. Thou art the TRUTH denoted by the Pranava. I invoke Thee as Gāyatrī (Giver of Illumination); I invoke Thee as Sāvitrī (Giver of Life); I invoke Thee as Sarasvatī (Giver of Knowledge and Wisdom); " (XXXV. 1).

"OM Bhūh, OM Bhuvah, OM Svah; OM mahah (the Region of Spiritual Light); OM Janah (the place of Origin of Universes); OM Tapah (the Region of Higher Knowledge); OM Satyam (the Abode of Truth). OM, May we meditate on the Adorable Splendour of That Supreme Divine Source of All to quicken our understanding. OM, IT is the Causal Waters, Light, Bliss, Ambrosia, Brahman, and also the Three Worlds. All these are verily OM." (XXXV. 2).

NOTES

1. In ordinary usage Ashvattha is a tree belonging to the fig variety. It grows up to a very huge size, but its berries are very small. Its leaves have long stalks and hence the leaves are constantly in movement with the slightest breeze, when other trees are still. Probably this has earned it the name Ashvattha. Consequently it has served as a symbol of religio-philosophical significance. It is also a very hardy tree and, like the ego, it is very difficult to eradicate. It grows anywhere, and even if a little of the root is left, it sprouts up again. Because of its religio-philosophical association, it is considered a holy tree, and is often seen in the villages with a platform around it with some holy images at its base. Being a huge spreading tree, the village meetings, school, etc. are also held under the shade of the Ashvattha tree.

2. "All these creatures, my dear, have BEING (SAT) as their root, have BEING as their abode, and have BEING as their support."

3. This is the idea underlying the concept of Adhish-thāna-Devatā-s (Presiding-Deities), the Luminous (Deva from Div, to shine) Cosmic counterparts of the various faculties, arts, and sciences, etc., in the Hindu tradition and thought. These Luminous Devatā-s, formless but conscious, like the mind, were later on endowed with concrete personified philosophic-mythological forms for purposes of adoration and worship (Upāsana). This tendency to concretize and personify the abstract and the formless is a uniquely special feature of Hindu tradition from the Vedic times to the present day in all fields of life—especially in the religious and aesthetic fields. (Cf. the Seasons, and the Rāga-s and Rāginī-s of music, personified in art and painting). The Devatā-s were step-by-step raised higher and higher and ultimately identified with the Ultimate Supreme Divine Reality, of which they are but aspectual expressions.

4. a) "The Illumined Sages (Sūrayah) constantly see that Infinite All-pervading Supreme Reality (Vishnu) without any obstruction as though their vast eye (vision) was spread out in the Spiritual Sky."

b) "This Atman, hidden in the Hearts of all beings, is not ordinarily revealed to all; but it is verily revealed to the subtle and pointed (concentrated) intellect of the sages who are trained in perceiving subtle objects."

5. Just as the Brahmāṇḍa has Fourteen Cosmic Worlds or Loka-s, the body also has correspondingly Fourteen Microcosmic Subtle Psychic-Centres called CHAKRA-s or LOTUS-es, arranged along the spine at different levels, roughly indicated by the various plexuses. However, these Chakra-s are located in the subtle-body and six of them are well known as the Shat-Chakra-s. Though the Shat-Chakra-s are well-known, there are other Chakra-s as well. See, The Serpent Power by Sir John Woodroffe. V. S. Apte in his The Practical Sanskrit English Dictionary, quotes, under the word Nāḍī, Mālātī-Mādhava, 5. 1, 2 : Shat-adhika-dasha nāḍī-Chakra madhya-sthita-ātma—The Atman abiding in the midst of the sixteen Nāḍī-Chakra-s. When one's Psychic Energy (Prāṇa-Vāyu) is raised along the central Psychic-Channel (Sushumnā-Nāḍī) in the spine (in the subtle-body), from bottom upwards, through appropriate Sādhana (Spiritual Practice) and attuned to any of these subtle Centres, one gets the corresponding Cosmic experience, just as when we tune the radio to different wave-lengths, we get the programmes being broadcast from different places in the world on those wave-lengths,

6. That is why we find babies everywhere use sounds like Ammā, Mum, etc. for mother. Hence Ammā or Ambā (b also being a labial, like b in but) is the most universal natural sound or name for the 'Divine Mother' or SHAKTI (DIVINE ENERGY), the Source of all phenomenal Existence.

7. Given here are some Triads that are, and can be, identified with the Matrā-s of OM and the Ardha-Matrā or A-Matrā (Turiya)—A-U-M....—for purposes of Upāsana: The list is not exhaustive. One may improvise according to the needs of one's Sādhana.

8. As already pointed out, the sound OM is produced by the combination of the three sounds A,U,M. These are the three Mātrā-s (Moras or phonetic components) of OM ; further there is the Ardha-Mātrā (half-mora) or the inaudible sound which still lingers even when the audible sound dies away, and which can be detected only by fine perception and concentration.

OM being the sound-symbol of Brahman, it is considered to be the first sound produced at the beginning of creation. From the three Mātrā-s of OM came out the three 'feet' of Gāyatrī. (The Sāvitrī-Mantra verse is in Gāyatrī metre and the 'feet' refer to its parts. Since the verse has become very famous and holy, it has become well known as the Gāyatrī, just as Gītā means song; but since the Bhagavad-Gītā became very famous, it is referred to as The Gita). And from its three 'feet' came out the three Vedas and the three Vyāhriti-s, Bhūr-Bhuvah-Svah, representing the three Cosmic World-Planes. From A, came out 'Tat Savitur-varenyam', which expanded itself into the Rig-Veda and the Cosmic Plane Bhūh; from U, 'Bhargo Devasya Dhīmahi', which expanded itself into Yajur-Veda and the Plane of Bhuvah; and from M, 'Āhiyo yo nah prachodayāt', which expanded itself into Sāma-Veda, and the Plane of Svah. The first Veda is Stuti-para (devoted to Devotion), the second is Kriyā-para (devoted to Work), and the third is Jñāna-para (devoted to Knowledge).

So by the meditation upon the different Mātrā-s different ends are attained according to the significations of the Mātrā-s. But when the mind is concentrated upon the Ardh-Mātrā, the Transcendental Brahman is realized.

VIVEKANANDA ON VEDA, OM, AND THE UNIVERSE

"VEDA is of the nature of Shabda or Idea. It is but the sum total of ideas. Shabda, according to the old Vedic meaning of the term, is the subtle idea which reveals itself by taking the gross form later on. So owing to the dissolution of the creation, the subtle seeds (ideas) of the future creation become involved in the Veda..... Supposing this jug breaks into pieces, does the idea of a jug become null and void? No. Because, the jug is the gross effect, while the idea 'jug' is the subtle state, or the Shabda-state of the jug. In the same way, the Shabda-state of every object is its Subtle State, and the thing we see, hear, touch, or perceive in any manner, is the gross manifestation of entities in the subtle state. Just as we may speak of the effect and annihilation even when the whole creation is annihilated, so also exists as the consciousness of the universe or the totality of all concrete things, exists in Brahman. At the point of creative manifestation, the causal entities vibrates into action, thus becoming being the sonant material substance. The primal sound 'OM' continues continuously. And then from the continuous vibration of the subtle image, or Shabda, comes the gross thing and then its gross manifestation. Thus the Shabda or world-cause is the VEDA."

"When the mind proceeds towards self-absorption in Brahman, it passes through all these stages one by one to reach the Absolute (Nirvikalpa) state at last. In the process of entering into Samadhi, first the universe appears as one mass of ideas ; then the whole thing loses itself in a profound 'OM'. Then even that melts away, even that seems to be between being and non-being. That is the experience of the eternal NĀDA. And then the mind becomes lost in the Reality of Brahman, and then it is done ; All is PEACE."
